Le Truck Village: Eurotunnel celebrates its 50,000th driver visit

Actively working with our clients, strengthening our leadership in the cross-Channel market

Since Le Truck Village opened in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic on the French Eurotunnel terminal, it has welcomed more than 50,000 truck drivers choosing to take a break or their rest hours at the site.

Now that the UK has left the EU, these essential workers can also wait for their customs and SPS formalities to be completed in Le Truck Village building and take advantage of the services available, such as showers, laundry, recharging refrigerated trucks, a food truck and food and beverage vending machines.

Yann Agneray, Freight customer service manager, said: "Our Le Truck Village service is open 24/7. Many services are offered to truck drivers such as showers which are cleaned after every use. We are proud to work with these drivers who are more than ever essential workers."
